Last time, we know from Peter Strzok that Democrats had an insurance policy if Trump won the election...

What was Democrats' plan this time around? And does it include the shady ballot counting happening in WI, MI and PA?? Impossible to believe they didn't have one.

I've joined 38 of my colleagues in writing a letter to AG Bill Barr requesting he investigate claims of voter fraud and make sure only all legal votes are counted in this election.

The American people need to have confidence that the outcome of this election is legitimate!!

I'm writing this from Capitol Hill to say I am looking forward to welcoming the thousands—maybe millions?—of supporters of Donald Trump here in Washington over the next 24-48 hours! The crowd coming is a powerful message to politicians in DC that things can't go back to "normal" or business as usual.

While I eagerly anticipate these patriots coming to our nation's capital, I am concerned about the presence of Antifa in D.C. already. Last night, they went to Senator Josh Hawley's house in Washington, threatening his wife and newborn daughter who were home alone. He told us they screamed threats, vandalized his house and tried to pound open the door.

I've had enough. I've called on Joe Biden or Nancy Pelosi to condemn Antifa as terrorists half a dozen times already. So far, they've been quiet. That's why I am calling on them again—or any other leaders of the Democrat party—to condemn the terrorist tactics these black-cladded Antifa militants employ.

I was present the night Senator Rand Paul was attacked outside the White House. I saw Antifa's tactics up close. Their goal is to terrorize and provoke. They have regularly hijacked peaceful protests and turned them into violent affairs. And if you don't want to take my word for it, the New York Times published an investigation that confirmed that Antifa was behind a lot of this summer's violence in our cities: <https://www.nytimes.com/.../anarchists-protests-black-lives-m...>

This has gone on long enough! It's time for my Democrat colleagues to step up and condemn Antifa now before it's too late.

Video: “Over the last several months when we shut down America, when we told families they couldn’t send their kids to schools, they couldn’t see their family members over the holidays, took away their livelihood. There was a deep-seated resentment that was growing throughout America. We saw that come to life today in the nation’s Capitol in a big way. If we ignore that in the months and years to come, it is only going to get worse if our nation’s leaders don’t pay attention to that resentment, especially if what I believe is going to happen, Tucker, is tomorrow the Left is going to use what they saw today to take away even more of our freedoms and use it as a guise or an excuse to crack down on Americans’ freedoms and civil liberties even further. If that happens, there’s going to be even more resentment that’s going to grow throughout America, and we are going to see situations like this happen again.”

What happened today was inexcusable. Every individual who broke the law should be prosecuted harshly.

But they don't represent the many Hoosiers who drove to DC to make their voices heard peacefully. We need to listen to their concerns.

The way forward is to follow the U.S. Constitution. My votes reflect both my support of the Constitution & voters of the 6th District who feel this election process was intentionally altered for political reasons. This was not what the Founding Fathers intended and it was wrong.

Today I joined an amicus brief asking the Supreme Court to examine key Constitutional questions surrounding the presidential election. Due to a clerical error by those filing the brief, I was not included on the list of signers, but I have been assured this will be fixed.

To be clear, I stand with President Trump in the fight to ensure any allegations of voter fraud or irregularities are carefully and fully investigated in order to maintain the American people's confidence in our electoral system.

I share the concerns of many Hoosiers about irregularities in the way some states conducted the presidential election. That is why I strongly support the creation of an Electoral Commission to conduct an emergency audit of presidential election returns before Inauguration Day.

This thorough and transparent examination would help restore confidence in our electoral system and provide individual states a remedy if fraud or misconduct are confirmed to have affected the results.

Walorski Statement on Electoral College Certification

WASHINGTON – U.S. Rep. Jackie Walorski (R-Ind.) today released the following statement after Congress certified the Electoral College vote:

"Yesterday was a dark day in our nation's history, but we are not ruled by violent mobs, and America is strong enough to endure attacks aimed at the heart of our democracy. Every American has the right to exercise their First Amendment rights, but violence and destruction are never the answer. Those who invaded the Capitol and assaulted law enforcement officers must be held accountable to the fullest extent of the law.

"I believe the integrity of our elections – and the faith the American people have that their votes are fully and fairly counted – is a cornerstone of our democracy. I share the concerns of many Hoosiers about irregularities in how some states conducted the 2020 presidential election. That is why I have strongly supported the creation of an Electoral Commission to conduct a thorough and transparent emergency audit to help restore the American people's confidence in our electoral system. Because Congress was unable to reach a bipartisan agreement to take such a commonsense step, I voted to formally object to certain electors from contested states in order to shine a light on these concerns.

"Another cornerstone of our democracy is the peaceful transfer of power. Like the more than 1.7 million of my fellow Hoosiers who voted for President Trump in November, I am disappointed in the outcome of the election. But Congress has formally certified the Electoral College vote, and we as Americans must follow the Constitution and support a peaceful, orderly transition to the next administration.

"I have always stood with President Trump in fighting to keep America safe and secure and to keep the American Dream alive for hardworking Hoosiers. I remain committed to fighting for workers, families, farmers, and small businesses and building on President Trump's incredible achievements, which have made America stronger, safer, and more prosperous. I urge President-elect Biden to choose the path of bipartisan cooperation over the radical agenda of the far-left wing of his party."

Walorski represents the 2nd Congressional District of Indiana, serving as a member of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Ranking Member of the House Ethics Committee.
